THE ENGLISH CAPITAL.

A BUDGET OF EUROPEAN NEWS FROM THE METROPOLIS.

No Prospects of the Re-admission of the Jesuits to Berlin—Sir John Gorst Offers to Resign His Position as Political Secretary to India.

LONDON, June 23.—A Berlin dispatch says that leading Catholics there have come to the conclusion that there is no prospect of the readmission of the Jesuits. The Emperor is believed to be opposed to them, and Protestant bodies generally throughout Prussia are adverse to any change that would permit the powerful order to return. The Government appreciates the force of this feeling and is not likely to oppose it. The Catholic hierarchy, however, continue to demand a complete repeal of all laws discriminating against the Catholic faith, its members and its orders.

A POLITICAL SENSATION.

A genuine political sensation has been caused by the offer of Sir John Gorst to resign his place as political Secretary for India. Sir Jno. Gorst thoroughly understands Indian affairs, and is an encyclopedia of information on the condition of England's Eastern Empire. He has not disguised his disgust with the management of the expedition against Manipur, and especially the attempt to seize Manipur princes as prisoners, when they would have been engaged in a durbar or conference. Viscount Cross has upheld the Marquis of Landsdowne from the beginning of the affair until now, and has steadily refused to permit the Viceroy's conduct to be criticised. Sir John is not a member of the cabinet, but attends to the actual work of the Indian office. Some go so far as to say that he has been anxious for a good excuse to retire, and quietly transform himself into the Liberal ranks.

A COMING BOOK.

A Rome dispatch says the Italians are looking forward, with considerable interest, to the publication of the book of the late Father Curci, entitled "Useful Memoirs of a Useful Life." It is believed the book will surpass in interest the "Apology" of the late Cardinal Newman, and will throw a strong light on the interior working of the church. Father Curci, who died near Florence, was persecuted for a number of years because he had opposed, or at least ceased to support the doctrine of the temporal power of the Pope.

THE LABOR COMMISSION.

The Royal Labor Commission is having a busy week. The mining leaders will be taken up to-morrow, and testimony especially on the question of an eight hour day will, it is expected, be of great interest. On Friday one group of the committee will begin an investigation of the textile trades.

RAVAGES OF THE LOCUSTS.

Famine is feared in Morocco, owing to the awful ravages of the locusts which have now reached a capacity for destruction that seems impossible for human industry or ingenuity to obstruct or diminish. It is the worst visitation of the kind in the history of the Moorish Empire and that country will have to import its food. Wherever rude agriculture has been rewarded with abundance, the insects have stripped the fruit trees off their bark and have even attacked the prickly cactus.

THE CHINESE RIOTS.

A Shanghai dispatch says the Chinese government has come to the conclusion that the recent riots were not merely anti-Christian, but were also aimed at the reigning dynasty in China. The outrages on foreigners have been perpetrated by the secret society of Kale, direct descendants of the Tayungs, who came so near overthrowing the empire. This accounts for the sudden activity of the Chinese government in bringing the rebels to justice.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S INFLUENCE.

The position of the Queen in English politics is usually supposed to be generally passive. In foreign politics she has been known to be greatly interested, but with internal English politics she has hitherto been credited with interfering little. At the opportune moment when the Conservative scheme of local self-government for Ireland is about to be contrasted with Gladstone's home rule proposals, Her Majesty has permitted the publication of a confidential communication which she has sent to the Archbiscop of Canterbury on the eve of another crisis in Irish political history, the introduction of bills for the disestablishment of the church in Ireland, and the inference is that Her Majesty desires to make Archbishop Tait's memoirs the medium of divulging what her attitude then was with a view to the application of the information to present events. Her Majesty did not approve of the disestablishment policy, but she accepted the decision of the country, and the Commons used her influence to induce the Lords on one hand to accept the bill and Gladstone to make conciliatory methods with the lords. The archbishop of Canterbury was her mediator and go between when the bill went into the lords, and the general expectation was they would reject it and another of those constitutional crises would arise which threaten the existence of the upper house. As now constituted, undoubtedly if the peers had rejected the disestablishment bill, Gladstone would have been backed by the enraged country and the always impending agitation to disestablish the peers as a legislative body would have received a dangerous momentum. The Queen wrote to the archbishop. Considering circumstances under which the measure has come to the House of Lords, the Queen cannot regard without the greatest alarm, the probable effect of its absolute rejection in that House, carried as it has been, by an overwhelming and steady majority through the Commons, chosen expressly to speak the opinion of the country on the question. There seems no reason to believe that any fresh appeal to the people would lead to different results. The rejection of the bill, therefore, would only serve to bring the two houses into collision, and so prolong a dangerous agitation of the subject.

These words, pregnant with application in the near future, are being quoted throughout the Liberal press as proof in anticipation that the Queen, accepting the verdict of the country on home rule, will use all her power and personal influence to prevent the lords from opposing it.

FRANCE AND RUSSIA.

Comte de Montbello, who replaces De Laboulaye as French ambassador at St. Petersburg, will be specially charged to obtain definite information from the Czar as to the action of Russia in the event of war between France and Germany. Ribot, minister of foreign affairs, charges that Laboulaye's failure to get proposals for the alliance arose from the Czar's anger at the fact that overtures were first submitted to De Giers, the Russian minister of foreign affairs, instead of to him. The Czar ordered De Giers to ignore the proposals for negotiations, and took the first occasion to snub Laboulaye, who felt compelled to ask Ribot to relieve him from his duties.

The witdrawal of Baron Mohrenheim, Russian ambassador at Paris, is imminent, as De Laboulaye acted on his advice. During the visit of the French squadron at Constradt the Czar will be personally broached on the subject of united action against the Dreibund, which is rendered all the more necessary through the menacing of the commercial coalition between the co untries.

The French ambassador to the Holy See presented to the Pope the letter from Carnot, in which the President expressed his high appreciation of the Pope's encyclical on social questions.

INCIDENTS IN PARNELL-O'SHEA CASE.

The action for libel brought by Henry Campbell, member of parliament for South Fermagh, and private secretary to Parnell, against the Cork Herald, for asserting that while other parliamentary members were attending to their duties the plaintiff (Mr. Campbell) was hiring houses for immoral purposes, was begun in Cork on Monday. Considerable interest attaches to the proceedings because of the fact that both Mr. Parnell and Mrs. O'Shea are expected to give some spicy testimony. Mr. Campbell states that he had never, in any way, interested himself or performed any duties in connection with the private affairs of Mr. Parnell. He explained his delay in bringing the present action by saying that there were so many false statements in circulation that it had been impossible to immediately take cognizance of them. In particular he speaks of the "fire escape accident" as a myth, and as an invention of Mr. Parnell's political opponents. In his testimony, Mr. Campbell also denied that he was the author of certain letters which had been widely discussed and which were said to bar his signature.

NEWFOUNDLAND AGREEMENT.

In the House of Commons to-day, Sir James Ferguson stated that when the Newfoundland agreement was made with France, both the British and French Governments received the approval of their respective parliaments before any arrangement could be put into execution. The French Government as yet had only obtained the approval of the Senate, and had until now abstained from bringing the agreement before the Chamber of Deputies. Her Majesty's Government was doing all that could be done to expedite matters.

MARLBOROUGH'S EX-WIFE AND WIFE.

Society is curiously watching the strife between the Duchess of Marlborough (formerly Mrs. Hammersley of New York) and the Marchioness of Blandford, (formerly the duke's wife) who obtained a divorce from the erratic nobleman and was given the custody of her son, the Marquis of Blandford, heir to the dukedom. The duchess is understood to be terribly jeatous of the marchioness, who occupies a high position in society and is a favorite of the Queen. The marchioness has hitherto allowed the young marquis to visit his father and stepmother, but has of late withdrawn this permission. In revenge the duchess has persuaded the duke to withdraw his son's allowance and refuse to pay his university expenses. The marchioness is said to be in dispair at this state of things and the Queen has expressed her displeasure at the blows aimed by the duchess at Her Majesty's protege. Further developments are looked for.

STANHOPE'S APOLOGY.

The answer made on behalf of the Prince of Wales by Stanhope in the House of Commons has silenced the criticism in Parliament, at least for the present. It is here thought that when a man owns that he committed an error he also, so far as the public is concerned, atones for it. Since Monday there has been a perceptible diminution in the flood of rebukes which poured in all last week on the unhappy Prince. The Times is on his side. Society is convinced that the Prince's baccarat days are over and one section of society is certainly not sorry that they are. Non-conformist conscience will not be content with the public penance done by the Prince in Parliament. Like the German Emperor, the dissenting divines still preach at him, and he may well be discomposed by the vigorous rhetoric of the Sunday sermons. I cannot remember to have heard that any of these divines have ever thought it worth while to remonstrate with the Prince because he attends the races. His connection with the turf is public, and the gambling on the turf is a thousand times heavier than the gambling with cards. But the turf is a national pastime, and it may even be called a national institution, while baccarat is not.

THE SIAMESE AND THE FRENCH.

A despatch from Calcutta states that war is threatened in Asia between the French and the Siamese. The Annamites have already come to blows with the Siamese troops on the banks of the Mekong, and the Siamese are engaged in ravaging the territory claimed by the French. Nothing has been heard of M. Pavie, a French officer, who with a party of assistants was engaged in adjusting the boundary line, and strong apprehension is felt that he may have fallen a victim to the Siamese. Should such be the case direct hostilities between France and Siam is more than possible, especially as Siam feels little disposed to make any concession. German and English influence is powerful in Siam, and Germans hold valuable contracts that would greatly affect them. It is believed the king will be desirous of peace, and he has ordered his troops on the frontier to abstain for the present from any aggressive course.

COERCION SUSPENDED.

Proclamations releasing nearly the whole of Ireland from what are known as the coercion provisions of the Crimes Act have now been issued. County Clare and certain baronies in Galway, Donegal and Tipperary are excepted. There, as Balfour said in a recent speech, the ashes of the plan of campaign still smoulder. Lord Salisbury thought that 20 years of resolute government might stamp out agrarian crime, while five have almost sufficed.

THE PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS.

The complaints in regard to the unhealthful condition of the parliament buildings have not subsided, though the immediate cause of the influenza has almost disappeared. It has been decided to appoint an engineer and several medical experts to enquire thoroughly into the state of the legislative hall and order such changes as may be necessary. The number of members on the sick list is very large and the £11,000 expended several years ago in an attempt to improve the sanitary condition of the buildings seems to have been without good effect.

CANADIAN REPRESENTATIVES.

Dr. George M. Dawson the Geologist and Sir George Baden Powell.

LONDON, June 22.—Sir George Baden Powell, K.C.M.G., member of parliament for the Kirkdale division of Liverpool, and Dr. George M. Dawson, of the Canadian survey department, have been appointed arbitrators in the Behring Sea conference, to be decided upon between the government of the United States and government of Great Britain. It is expected that the first meeting of the board of arbitration will take place in October next. The British members of the board will meet almost immediately at Ottawa, whence they will proceed to Vancouver Island, B. C., with the intention of spending two months on board a man-of-war cruising in Behring Sea, visiting the Pribyloff Islands and all principal stations frequented by the sealers. At the expiration of the cruise, it is expected the arbitrators will be sufficiently acquainted with the details of the seal hunting business, and with news of interest of the sealers, to be able to meet the American arbitrators as experts.

[The functions of Dr. Dawson and Sir George Baden-Powell will be to report on seal life, the number and the alleged depletion of seals, and to report the facts to the arbitrators, who are not yet appointed.

Inquiring Radicals.

LONDON, June 23.—In the House of Commons this evening, Hon. Edward Stanhope, Secretary of State for War, replying to a question by Henry Peyton Cobb (Liberal) said the Government would consider whether a three years' return of all non-commissioned officers and others of the British army who had been punished by a reduction to the ranks for conniving at card playing or other forms of gambling, or for partaking therein with official inferiors, could be granted. Replying to another question the Secretary said he could see no necessity for the issuance of an order calling the attention of officers of the army to the gambling regulations of the service, as he did not believe these regulations had been broken.

"A Floating City."

LONDON, June 20.—James and George Thompson have shown a model of a vessel to cross the Atlantic in five days. She has twin screws, with a diameter of over twenty feet, four blades each and are placed as in the City of Paris, one on each side of a balanced rudder. There is no information given as to the dimensions of the vessel, but private parties give the length of the vessel as 630, the total moddeled depth 55 feet, while her beam will be about 73 feet. This will make her the largest vessel afloat or proposed. She will have accomodation for 700 first-class passengers, 300 second class passengers and about 400 emigrants.

Smashed Beyond Recognition.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 23.—A large baloon belonging to Count Apraxino, yesterday escaped from the attendants, who were holding it, and carried upwards four workmen. At a great height the balloon burst and the bodies of the unfortunates were dashed to the earth, where they were crushed almost beyond recognition.

Pensioned.

CALCUTTA, June 23.—Mrs. Quinton and Mrs. Grimwood, whose husbands were massacred at Manipur have each been accorded a pension of fifteen hundred dollars per annum.

THE BUDGET SPEECH.

THE CHANGE IN THE TARIFF—THE SUGAR DUTIES.

The Duties Taken Off Raw Sugar—Tariff on Tobacco Increased—Capt. Larkin Strikes a Snag and the Committee Again Talks in Private.

Special to the TIMES.]

OTTAWA, June 23.—At the meeting of the Tarte investigation commission to-day Mr. Gobiel, Deputy Minister of Public Works, and Mr. Perley, chief engineer, examined and identified both the correspondence in regard to the Esquimalt Harbor. Although it was decided by the department that no extras be paid in the first instance, afterwards Langevin agreed to give extras and a change of material, on which the contractors made a large amount. A lively time occurred during the examination of Larkin, when Tarte produced a letter and asked if that was written by him (Larkin) and sent to Murphy. The committee then met with closed doors and decided that this and other letters should be left with the clerk of the committee for the use only of members of the committee. This letter was in answer to one from other members of the firm asking him to give another donation of $5000. Larkin, in his letter objected to this, saying that these calls were coming too often and the first thing the firm would know was that they would only have an old plant on their hands for the work.

In the House this afternoon, Foster delivered his budget speech, there being very few people in the galleries. The following he said were the figures for 1889-'90: Estimated customs, $24,000,000; receipts, $23,968,553; excise, $7,000,000; receipts, $7,618,118; miscellaneous, $8,200,000; receipts, $8,292,853; total estimates, $39,200,000; receipts, $39,879,924; leaving a difference in favor of receipts of $679,925. The revised statement of revenue for '90-91 was $38,350,000, or a decrease of $850,000 over the first estimates. A surplus of $2,136,243 is shown by this statement, but adding this to the sinking fund, and it will be seen that both fall short of meeting capital expenditure.

Raw sugar was to be admitted free, which would be a loss of about $3,000,000 of duty, and compensating duties would be placed on other articles not to the extent of $3,000,000, but about $1,500,000. He proposed an increase of 1 cent per pound on malt, 20 cents per gallon on distilled spirits, and 5 cts. per pound on tobacco. He placed the duty on refined sugar at eight-tenths of a cent per pound, which lessens the duty to about one cent per pound, and gives a bounty of one cent per pound on standard beet sugar for the present year.

Cartwright followed, making an excellent speech.

Killed His Father.

KEY WEST, Fla., June 23.—Joseph Demritt, a cigar maker, 19 years old, killed his father yesterday afternoon, and now lies in the city prison. Joseph's father, Geo. A. Demritt, was a fisherman, who had plied his calling many years on the island. Yesterday afternoon he missed $10, which he had put away for safe keeping, and accused his son Joseph of stealing it. The lad denied all knowledge of the money, and was highly incensed at the accusation. The old man was certain his son was the thief, and pouncing upon Joseph, gave him a terrible flogging. Joseph stood it for a minute or two, but in an instant of frenzied rage, he whipped out his sharp cigar knife from his pocket, and turning on his father, plunged it into his heart. The old man fell backward, with the knife still sticking in his breast, and the blood gushing from the wound. In a moment he was dead. Joseph was at once arrested. The paracide is of a morose disposition, and is suffering with consumption.

Affairs in Chili.

LONDON, June 23.—A Santiago de Chili disatch from Balmaceda's Government says the rebels have lost all their moral force, and resistance on their part in the south has come to an end. On the other hand the same dispatch says that President Balmaceda is increasing the strength of his army, and his war vessels are attacking the rebel ports, while the rebel squadron avoids fighting. The President freely walks the streets of Santiago, which city is entirely on his side. The rebels are prolonging the struggle only to enrich themselves with the Arapaca nitrate deposits. Of the Constitutional Congress it is asserted it meets with regularity and passes measures in the interests of the people, and furnishes the government with ample resources. Nineteen provinces are stated to be under the control of Balmaceda, these provinces being inhabited by 3,000,000 people, while the rebellious provinces have a population of 150,000, half of whom are represented to be foreigners.

Sam Small Enters Court.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—The grand jury in this city has returned a true bill for criminal libel against Rev. J. Wesley Hill, of Ogden, Utah. The offence is for writing and publishing defamatory letters, charging criminal conduct on the part of Rev. Sam Small, in connection with the funds of the Utah university. Hall having failed to make good any charge against Dr. Small, in the recent Methodist conference investigations of Small's official career, the latter now seeks to bring his accuser before the criminal court.

A HAPPY FAMILY.

A VISIT TO THE LEPERS ON DARCEY ISLAND.

What They Have Done in Five Weeks—Half an Acre of Land Under Cultivation—All Thoroughly Contented and Living Happy Together.

About 3:30 yesterday afternoon, the little steamer Alert, Capt. Clarke, with Dr. Milne, Ald. Holland, Sanitary Officer Bailey, Ah Wing, interpreter, and several others on board, left for Darcey Island lazaretto. The weather was all that could be desired, and a very pleasant trip was enjoyed by those aboard. After a two hours' run through the many little channels, the Alert dropped anchor in one of the prettiest little bays on the coast; Holland bay, so named on account of the great interest the worthy alderman has taken in the unfortunate lepers. The water is several feet deep right up to the beach, making a splendid harbor, where steamers of all sizes could land without any trouble. The five Chinamen rushed out to meet the visitors as the boat landed. The unfortunates were as happy as mudlarks. They were pleased to see the visitors, and were anxious to show what work they had done. In front of their house they have got potatoes and other kinds of vegetables well under way. This was thought to be pretty good, as even the most sanguine did not expect that they would do much work. But John is not an idler as a rule, and the five unfortunate men on Darcey Island, although they look as if they could not do an hour's work, have indeed been industrious. The best of the five led the visitors through a roadway that they had built to the most fertile part of the island, and there is where they have spent most of the five weeks they have been on the island profitably. There are ten or twelve acres of splendid land on the northern side of the island, and John has been working there. They have about an acre of land well cleared and grubbed, and over half an acre under cultivation. Potatoes, onions, Chinese and other vegetables, are coming up splendidly, and the prospects are that there will be enough vegetables raised to keep the occupants of the island through the winter. The soil is a splendid black loam, just such a place as one would desire for a small farm, on which almost anything would grow. Here John has also made provision for a few delicacies, for in a little patch near the house they have got a strawberry bed. The cabins look nice and clean, each being supplied with a small stove, iron bedstead, spring mattrass and utensils of all kinds. They look far more comfortable than many of their brethren in the hovels of Chinatown.

Another few months' work, such as has already been done, and Darcey Island will be a pretty little farm that many a man could well enjoy. The gardens are all laid out in the Chinaman's usual neat style that make them look so pretty. The work done since the Alert last visited the place is wonderful when the fact is considered that three of the Chinamen have no fingers left on their hands, and their feet half gone. When asked if they were contented and lived happily together, they answered with a laugh that they were thoroughly so. A few things they were in need of, the principle item being a few chickens, some clothing and other small articles which Ald. Holland furnished them, and the rest they shall have as soon as the steamer goes up again, which will be in a few weeks. With a few live animals the Chinamen will soon become self-sustaining, for they have got such a place as a few Chinamen would chose if they were going into the ranching business. There is a good well of water, a clam bed that will last forever, and enough land to sustain 10 times as many Chinamen as are at present on the island.

After having inspected the island, the party boarded the Alert again and started on the return trip. The water in the channels was as smooth as glass, and the return trip was an agreeable one. After coming out into the gulf the little steamer began to roll around pretty lively, but beyond being rolled about the deck the landsmen suffered no uneasiness. The s.s. Empress of Japan was sighted in the distance and all being agreeable, Pilot Thompson was picked up and the Alert went out to meet the ocean liner. The pilot was put aboard and the passengers on board the little steamer were given a good chance to see the second Empress with all her lights burning brightly. The wharf was reached about 9:30 all aboard being glad that they had taken the opportunity to make a visit to Darcey Island.

Sanitary Officer Bailey was one of the happiest men in the city, he being so thoroughly delighted at the work done by the five unfortunate men, who he confidently expected to find hanging around their cabins, satisfied with living on what their benefactors, the city, would do for them. He was indeed happily surprised.

NANAIMO NEWS.

Sunday School Picnics—Sale of Newcastle Lots—A Wrestling Match.

NANAIMO, June 22.—The auction sale of the E. & N. railroad company's land, known as Hodgson's claim, took place in the opera house on Saturday and was well attended. The bidding was lively and prices ranged high, some of the lots bringing as much as $350 and corresponding prices according to position. Many waited round hoping that prices would drop to $50 but it was not till the sale was nearly over that this low offer commanded a sale and then it was only a few. There was only a few lots out of each block put up for sale and buyers seemed to be glad to get them.

WRESTLING MATCH.

J. Steward, of this city, has been matched to wrestle J. M. Faulkner, champion light weight wrestler of the United States, for $1000 a side. A forfeit of $250 has been posted by Steward, and the match is to take place in this city. In all probability the former will be trained by McLeod, to whom he is already indebted for all he knows about the art. McLeod returned on Saturday and has not yet seen Steward but states he will train him if he wants him to. Steward is a small man but well sinewed, so that the match will be a good one.

DON'T LIKE THE SYSTEM.

Some time ago the business men had an idea that things would be better if the company paid twice per month, and so got the miners to agitate it. When the question was put to the company it was readily conceded, and the result is that the pay takes place every second week, but many of the business men state they wish it had been kept as it was, and in fact would like to see it altered again. The miners gratified the desire of the merchants, although they were well satisfied with the way things were before. It is claimed the principal bulk of the money is put in the bank.

PRESBYTERIAN SCHOOL PICNIC.

Although the weather on Saturday was somewhat unpromising, it did not deter the scholars and teachers of the Presbyterian Sunday School from holding their picnic as announced. The party proceeded to the boathouse and embarked in small boats, and the whole of them were taken in tow by Foreman & Campbell's steam launch and landed on Newcastle Island, where they enjoyed themselves immensely. While there they were somewhat favored by the weather and only one sprinkling warned them that rain was close at hand. All kinds of amusements were indulged in and kept up till night crept upon them, then the party returned to the city, and the singing while on their way home proved how well they had enjoyed the day.

METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY.

Yesterday was the anniversary of the Methodist Sunday School, and the auditorium of the church was crowded to excess both morning, afternoon and evening, not only by children but a large percentage of adults. Rev. W. W. Baer, pastor, preached a very eloquent sermon to the children in the morning, and in the afternoon the proceedings consisted of parts by the children, such as recitations and singing. A short address was delivered by the superintendent (L. Manson), which was greatly appreciated by the juveniles. In the evening the pastor preached a special sermon on "The future of the child." The singing was taken throughout the day by the juvenile choir, under the leadership of Professor W. J. Speer, who is deserving of much praise for the efficient manner in which he has brought the children to their present competency. During the time the latter has been instructing both choirs, he has succeeded (according to visiting Methodist ministers) in placing the Nanaimo Methodist church choir ahead of any other choir in the Province. Much praise was given to the singing of the children yesterday, and it is only to be hoped we shall hear them more often.

MOUNT TOLMIE PARK.

LOOKING DOWN UPON MOST CHARMING SCENERY.

One of the Most Desirable Suburbs of Victoria—Beautiful and Healthful—A Public Park on Top of the Mount—Sites for Villa Residences, Etc.

Look what direction you will, whether north, south, east or west, and a perfect but varying landscape presents itself. This is from the summit of Mount Tolmie, which raises its head 350 feet above the surrounding country, its slopes gradually falling until the waters of Puget Sound break upon them but a mile to the east.

It is evident that even the residents of Victoria do not know of the charms of this place as it is by far the most delightful and accessible drive around the city, but as many would say "It is too near," being only two miles from the heart of the city, and only one-half mile without the city limits. From the Mount to the south, looking over a beautiful and fertile valley, with its green foliage and fields, Victoria looms up. Like Mahomet and the mountain is Victoria and Mount Tolmie. Through this beautiful stretch of country numerous new dwellings crop up here and there, and each new one being nearer Mount Tolmie, which shows that the growth of the city is in that direction, and, as a matter of fact, from the natural conformation of the country it can grow in no other direction unless it dips into the sea or climbs mountains. The present difficulty is lack of easy and rapid transportation for those who have not their own conveyances, as the nearest electric tramway is 1¼ miles away, but before another year is over that difficulty will be obviated as a tramway is prospected, connecting with the other city lines, which will have its terminus at the base of Mount Tolmie.

The Mount itself has been so reserved that it will always be retained as a park for the benefit of the residents of the adjacent property. To take a mountain in the rough and make a park of it is an undertaking that takes much money and much time, but already there is an easy carriage ride to the summit and a regiment of workmen are grubbing, digging and cutting under the direction of an engineer and landscape gardner, that will make the park by another year, through its natural beauty, equal to many parks that have been for years under watchful care.

At the foot of the Mount, toward the northwest, over toward Cedar Hill and Cordova Bay lays a tract of land consisting of nearly 300 acres, that are owned by the same company, and this tract, together with the Mount, is called Mount Tolmie Park. Of this tract, 100 acres have been divided into villa lots, one-third of which will be sold on June 30, at auction, in Montreal. For health, comfort, pleasure and every thing that makes a suburban home pleasant is to be found there. The soil is of a dark heavy loam that makes the softest turf and fragrant flowers as illustrated by the Mount Tolmie Nurserys a few hundred yards away, from the side of the Mount bubbles out springs of purest water that at small expense can be piped by gravitation to the property, and a twelve foot well will produce equally as good water. All of it is slightly undulating, rendering sewerage easy and perfect, with an outlet to tide water. Cadboro Bay, but a short distance away has an excellent beach where bathing and boating are perfectly safe. Less than a quarter of a mile away is a church with a school for children adjoining, under the direction of the Church of England, and plans are now perfected to erect within the next year a young ladies' seminary. The climate is that of Victoria, famous the world over, moderated by protection from the winds on either side, but with always a gentle sea breeze coming off Puget Sound. To walk over the property and try to pick out the most favorable location would be difficult, as there is not a bad site on the entire tract, and the only way would be to enquire who would be your next door neighbor.

To really appreciate what Mount Tolmie Park is, you must see it, and when you once see it the thought naturally arises why did not some millionaire buy the whole tract and building himself a castle have one of the show places of the world. It is a pity that at least part of the sale is not to take place in Victoria, so that a few, at least, of Victoria's citizens could have an equal chance to purchase them. In another year, however, when the Electric Tramway is finished, it is intended to place more of the tract on the market, but by that time it will naturally take more money to buy them.

THE ALASKA BOUNDARY.

Professor Mendenhall Tells of the Survey—Height of St. Elias.

Professor T. C. Mendenhall, superintendent of the United States coast and geodetic survey, has returned from an official visit to Alaska, and in an interview with a Post-Intelligencer reporter, said: "I went to look after the survey which is being made along the coast and found it going on well. We have two parties at work locating the 141st parallel in the interior. They have been engaged on it two years, but will finish it and return to San Francisco about August. One of the parties returned to San Francisco for the winter, but the other was too late in reaching the coast to catch the steamer and had to winter at St. Michael's.

"I see that a number of newspapers have accepted Professor Russel's estimate of the height of Mount St. Elias, and have placed Mount Wrangel above it in order in regard to height. The fact is that Professor Russell's calculations are no more likely to be accurate than previous ones, which placed the height of the peak at about 19,500 feet. When we come to define the eastern boundary of Alaska, we shall make triangulations of the height of the mountain which will definitely establish the fact. At the same time we shall ascertain whether it is in the United States or Canada. The boundary is sure to run within a few miles of the mountain and it will serve as a landmark for us. It is an ideal peak and is a grand sight from the sea.

"I doubt whether Alaska will ever prove of much value except for fisheries and furs. There are no great bodies of large timber, as there are in this State; there are simply clumps of large trees, not large enough to make it worth while to cut them for lumbering. There may be large timber in the interior, but from all I have heard it is not likely. The failure of the Bear's Nest mine seems to have been a serious blow to mining, by frightening investors away from the territory, for no new development is being made."

Professor Mendenhall will return East by way of Portland and San Francisco.

They poulticed her feet and poulticed her head,
And blistered her back till 'twas smarting and red,
Tried tonics, elixirs, pain-killers and salves,
(Though grandma declared it was nothing but "narves.")
The poor woman thought she must certainly die,
Till "Favorite Prescription" she happened to try.—
No wonder its praises so loudly they speak;
She grew better at once, and was well in a week.

The torturing pains and distressing nervousness which accompany at times, certain forms of female weakness, yield like magic to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and adapted to the delicate organization of woman. It allays and subdues the nervous symptoms and relieves the pain accompanying functional and organic troubles. Guarantee printed on bottle wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

THE CRY OF MILLIONS

OH, MY BACK!
STOP IT NOW.
SOON IT WILL BE TOO LATE.

I have been troubled many years with disease of the kidneys and have tried many different remedies and have sought aid from different physicians without relief. About the 15th of April I was suffering from a very violent attack that almost prostrated me in such a manner that I was bent over. When I sat down it was almost impossible for me to get up alone, or to put on my clothes, when glad Providence sent Dr. Henley, with the OREGON KIDNEY TEA, to my hotel. I immediately commenced using the tea. It had an almost miraculous effect, and to the astonishment of all the guests at the hotel, in a few days, I am happy to state, that I was a new man. I will recommend the tea to all afflicted as I have been.

ENGLISH STATISTICS.

The following statistics seem to indicate that the decline of the United Kingdom has not begun as has been alleged by the London Spectator. The recent census of England and Wales shows a population of 29,000,000, being an increase of 3,000,000 during the decade. The population of England and Wales when the last censes was taker, on April 4, 1881, was 26,000,000. In 1871 it was 22,700,000; in 1861, 20,500,000; in 1851, 18,000,000; in 1841, 16,000,000. The decennial rate of increase has been from 1841 to 1851, 12.65; from 1851 to 1861, 11.93; from 1861 to 1871, 13.20; from 1871 to 1881, 14.36. The increase from 1881 to 1891 would appear from the figures given in the dispatch to have been about 13.20. The decennial increase in the population of the United States during the same decade was about 26. It thus appears that despite the crowding of England and the impediments which poverty interposes in the way of natural increase, its people are growing in numbers about half as fast as the people of the United States.

These facts are thought to be remarkable because it is not certain that there is any "natural increase" in England and Wales. The conditions of life, it is alleged, are so hard that the marriage rate is low. It has been stated by an apparently reliable statistician that the death rate in England really exceeds the birth rate, and that the number of natives do not increase, but on the contrary show a falling off from year to year. Futrher the latest statistics show that England loses every year over 260,000 of her population by "emigration and immigration." The average number of emigrants to the United States, the British colonies and other countries during the past seven or eight years has been about 389,000 per year, the average number of immigrants about 125,000 a year; net loss to Great Britain 260,000 a year, or 2,600,000 in a decade, of which the share of England and Wales is about 150,000 a year, or 1,500,000 in the decade. According to this England would have gained by natural increase during the last decade not 3,000,000 but 4,500,000 souls, which is not credible, especially as the fact of there being any natural increase at all is denied.

The solution of the mystery, it is said, is probably to be found in an underestimate of the tide of migration from Continental Europe into England. There are probably far more Germans and Poles and Italians and Frenchmen and Slavs floating every year into England than the staticians reckon. Foreigners moving into London or Liverpool are not obliged to record their arrival. Shipmasters are not particular about reporting the steerage passengers they carry. Custom-house officials and trade chroniclers know exactly how much wheat or wine is received at British ports each year. But it is nobody's business to keep a finger on the pulse of the migration of human beings into the United Kingdom, and the so-called reports are mere guesses. That the immigration is larger than is reported may be inferred from the repeated complaints that this or that field of labor in London, formerly in the hands of natives, has been invaded by foreigners.

WETTSTEIN MAKES AN OFFER.

Mr. WETTSTEIN, of Marengo, Illinois, desirous of ascertaining the true inwardness of spirit manifestations, has made an offer of $100 to any medium who can produce tangible evidence of a disembodied spirit. Perhaps the term intangible should be used in this connection, for Mr. WETTSTEIN proposes certain tests which require that the spirit manifestation produced shall be intangible, or suffer dire consequences. In other words, when the medium shall have produced an alleged materialized spirit, Mr. WETTSTEIN proposes to send a bullet through it, and if it prove intangible, the $100 is the medium's, and Mr. WETTSTEIN will become a convert. As to slate writing, Mr. WETTSTEIN will also donate another $100 provided a medium is able to produce a spirit who will write on a slate purchased by him (Mr. WETTSTEIN) at a store, and tied together after the usual fashion, and not taken out of his sight or from under his care until the message has been secured. In the matter of pistol practice on materialized spirits, in proof of their intangibility, if that be a barbarous test, Mr. WETTSTEIN proposes a test less destructive and noisy than that involved in the use of firearms. It is this:—He must be permitted to grasp the hand of the phantom with his own bare hands, and while so holding the spirit hand the apparition must vanish without any struggle whatever, dissolve in thin air, as it were.

If it be really the case that spirits may be materialized and slates written upon with invisible hands, here is a chance for a medium to turn not merely "an honest penny," but to raise his profession above charlantanism. Men look for a sign: let them have it. Why should the spirits refuse to satisfy vulgar curiosity? The tests required by Mr. WETTSTEIN should not be difficult of performance by bona fide spirits.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Tory majority in the House is growing smaller and beautifully less. Mr. LAURIER's motion of "want of confidence" was lost only by 20 votes. What will the Empire, which has been insisting that the Government's majority was 35, now say?

In Mr. ABBOTT's explanation of his disloyal conduct in 1849, he relates a little matter in proof of his loyalty which will not recommend him to BLAINE, HARRISON, et al. Heraised 300 volunteers on the strength of the Trent affair. Disloyal to England in 1849 and ready to pounce on the States in 1862, we have a mixture of renegade which loses him the confidence of all parties.

What has British Columbia done that a broken down political hack should be foisted on her as a Lieut.-Governor? Since, however, the Lieut.-Governorship is the crowning act which precedes political dissolution, British Columbia perhaps can stand it. Any thing to get rid of the Minister of the Interior. Mr. DEWDNEY, though, should be relegated to the North West Territories, where he governed with such wisdom that a rebellion was the result.

In removing the duty from raw sugar and making up the loss of revenue consequent by increasing the duty on tea, we have another instance of the mighty influence wielded by the money power. The people will not get their sugar cheaper by the removal of the duty from raw sugar, while tea will cost them more than ever. Who says that our Government is by the people and for the people? Put it that the Government is by manufacturers and for manufacturers and you have it. The people don't count except as cat's-paws.

The announcement of a Government majority of twenty, on Mr. LAURIER's non-confidence motion, is said to have been secured with "prolonged Ministerial cheers." In the last House the Government had a majority of over fifty, and on the first division this session, its majority was only twenty-seven. It is now reduced to twenty! Perhaps the Government supporters thought the process of disintegration was going on more rapidly. When the majority is reduced to fifteen and then to ten, no doubt there still will be "prolonged" cheers. The Government supporters are only "cheering" to keep their courage up.

The Colonist, in putting in a good word for Sir JOHN GORST, makes the position of the Government all the more indefensible. After assenting to the resolutions forwarded from Berlin by Sir JOHN GORST, it is difficult to understand why the Government should not have assented to the Buxton amendment. If Sir JOHN, as a member of the Government, felt compelled to resign because the Government had stultified itself, it should seem that the least the Government can do is to follow his example. The Tories, however, of recent years are not at all squeamish as to the principles which should obtain in the carrying on of responsible government.

Kamloops has concluded to incorporate, at least it should seem so, for the Sentinel has descended from the fence where it has roosted for the last two years or more, and declared itself in favor of it. When the Sentinel comes out flat-footed for anything, it may be depended upon that the powers that be have changed their mind. "Barkis," at last, "is willin." Indeed, the Sentinel says so. We quote: "The bitterest opponents to incorporation when the project was started a few years ago, are now altogether in favor of it." The powers that be are to be congratulated on their change of heart. Had "Barkis" consented three years ago it would have been money in his pocket and he could have been mayor at the same time.

The Toronto Week makes the following criticism on the Century Dictionary:

Although it is a "dictionary of the English language," this work of the Century Company sets out to be an authority on that language as spoken and written in the New World. With this, of course, one cannot quarrel, much as one may secretly regret it. The distinctions made by this dictionary may be chiefly noticed in many words containing the letters a or r, as in ask, can't, command, hurt, harm, hair, etc. For ourselves, we think a dictionary should lead, not be led, in the matter of pronunciation, and should emphatically lead in the path of greater accuracy and distinctness of enunciation. There is a fashion in pronunciation as there is in everything else, and if a good dictionary were resolutely to set its face against fashion and would decry such inelegancies as the burred r, and elided final g, the slurring of vowels, and the wholesale "skipping" of syllables, it would receive the thanks, not only of purists (not that their gratitude would be of very high value) but of scholars. But upon a continent where by about point nine recurring of native-born readers solid is called solud, poem pome, Friday Fridy, stomach stomich, calm cam, accident acc'ent, elm elum, God gard, and home hoom, even a little purism would do no harm.

Looking up the matter with reference to "ask," "command," "hurt," "harm," and "hair," we find that "a" in ask is to be given the same inflection as in "fast" and in "ant." "Command" pronounced "kammand," "hurt" "hert," "harm" "a" as in "father," and "far," "hair" the "a" as in "fare." The more one studies the English language the more perplexed he becomes as to pronunciation, and small wonder it is that the majority of people pronounce "Friday" "Fridy," and "stomach" "stomich."

BARNSLEY CUP.

At a special meeting of the Victoria Gun Club, held last evening, it was decided to shoot for the Barnsley cup at the Victoria Driving Park on Dominion Day.

THE OAR.

M'LEAN AND PETERSON MATCHED.

McLean and Peterson have finally made a match but to do it Peterson had to concede everythiug that McLean asked and thereby he is badly handicapped. Muirhead, Peterson's backer, and Frank Campbell went over to New Westminster and after a conference with McLean each side deposited $500 to bind a race for $1250 a side on Aug. 8th on Fraser River. The conditions of the race are three miles with a turn in lapstreak boats, shell bottom, not over 20 feet long. Peterson to receive $150 for expenses. Peterson will come north early in July to begin training and it is expected that he will train in Victoria. On the records of the two men Peterson should be the winner, but in a lapstreaked boat on a strange river course every advantage is in favor of McLean as both that kind of boat and the Fraser River are familiar to him.

A. D. Wheeler, of Ainsworth, B.C., is in town.

Rev. Barber left for Port Angeles yesterday.

J. A. Laidlaw and T. E. Ladner are at the Driard.

The Interior of the Earth.

One of the most interesting questions relating to our planet, says Prof. G. P. Serviss, is that of its interior constitution. Observations made in deep mines and borings indicate that the temperature increases as we go downward at the average rate of one degree Fahr. for every fifty-five feet of descent, so that if this rate of increase continued, the temperature at the depth of a mile would be more than a 100 degrees higher than at the surface, and, at the depth of forty miles, would be so high that everything, including the metals, would be in a fluid condition. This view of the condition of the earth's interior has been adopted by many, who hold that the earth on which we dwell is like a shell surrounding the molten interior. But calculations based upon the tidal effects that the attraction of the sun and moon would have upon a globe with a liquid interior have led Sir William Thomson and others to assert that such a condition is impossible, and that the interior of the earth must be solid and exceedingly rigid to its very centre. To the objections that the phenomena of volcanoes contradict the assumption of a solid interior, it is replied that unquestionably the heat is very great deep beneath the surface, and that reservoirs of molten rock exist under volcanic districts, but that, taking the earth's interior as a whole, the pressure is so great that the tendency to liquefaction caused by the heat is over-balanced thereby. The whole question, however, is yet an open one.

Heavy Failure.

BOSTON, June 23.—Alley Bros. & Place, leather dealers, 54 South street, have assigned. Alley Bros. are sons of the Hon. J. B. Alley, and the latter was a $400,000 special partner. Liabilities, $300,000 to $500,000.

LONDON, June 23.—The assertion is made that Murietta & Co. have so arranged their affairs as to make it unnecessary for them to go into liquidation. It will be some days before the details of the arrangement are made public.

BOSTON, June 22.—A later estimate of the liabilities of Alley Bros. place them at $400,000; assets are claimed to $900,000. Wm. A. Knowlton is joint assignee with Mr. Rust.

Miss Kate Vaughan, who was an English variety actress and is now the prospective Duchess of Wellington, has met with an accident which will not only result in her having to undergo a serious operation, but will deprive the public of the opportunity of again seeing the most graceful dancer England ever produced. She originated the fashion of long-skirt dancing, which has since become so popular, but none of her imitators approach the exquisite grace and daintiness of the original.

The Old Hospital.

The finance committee of the Board of Aldermen visited the old French hospital this afternoon. The building is well suited for a home for the aged poor and destitute, and no doubt a favorable report will be presented to the council to-morrow evening.

The Place to go to.

To make room for our new stock of goods that is coming, we will sell the stock in hand consisting of gent's furnishing, etc., at prices that have no equal. Our children's jersey suits will all be sold at cost. Lion Gent's Furnishing House, 74 Yates street.

Trustee Board Meeting.

A meeting of the Trustee Board of the Gorge Road Methodist Church will be held this evening. Mr. Hooper, the architect, will submit plans for the new church to be built. The board will then decide what material the church will be built of, wood, stone or brick.

Licensing Court.

The licensing court with Mayor Grant, Robt. Ward, J.P., and Ald. Hunter on the bench met this morning at the City Hall. The only business, the consideration of Mrs. B. Heman's application for a transfer of the license for the Standard theatre, was laid over until the next sitting of the court.

The Sewers.

Contractor McBean has got nearly 700 feet of tunnelling completed on Moss street for the new sewers. The earth out of the tunnels is not raised to the surface but run out on to the beach by a side tunnel. The excavating machine is moving towards town in quick order. The work on the Humboldt street tunnel is also progressing well.

Denies the Charge.

Harry Howard, late of this city, but now of Portland, Oregon, writes to the TIMES to the effect that he was not arrested in Portland, as reported. He desires the TIMES to "correct matters, publish facts;" he objects to "being libelled." He states, further, that he has done nothing that would prevent him from returning to Victoria if he "cared to."

Excursion to Angeles.

The U.P. steamer Geo. E. Starr will leave Turner, Beeton & Co's., wharf at 9 o'clock on Sunday morning for Port Angeles. The weather has settled now, so that all who attend may be sure that they will have a pleasant trip. The Starr will also run between Port Angeles and Victoria on the 4th of July to give Victorians the opportunity of spending the 4th on American soil.

Where are the Evil Doers?

It is very doubtful if there are many cities of 30,000 population that can present a state of police discipline as Victoria did this morning. At 10 o'clock the police court opened for business with two Justices of the Peace on the bench when Chief Sheppard arose and stated that there had been no arrests since yesterday and there was no work for the court to do.

St. Andrew's Choir Festival.

The St. Andrew's Choir strawberry-musicale promises to be one of the most perfect affairs of the kind ever given in this city. The choir itself has no superior in the city, and under the direction of its talented leader, Mr. Frank Fenwick, a programme may be looked for which will meet the approval of the most fastidious musical ear. As for the strawberries, they, of course, will speak for themselves.

Epworth League Entertained.

The members of the Epworth League were entertained last evening by Mrs. Moore at her residence on Fairfield road. There were about 25 who partook of her hospitality and passed a very enjoyable evening. Music, games and recitations helped pass the evening and at its close the League voted Mrs. Moore a delightful hostess, and they hoped that some other ladies would throw open their houses to them.

A Strong Vault.

The Dominion Government have evidently decided that no one is going to tamper with their books and papers, for in the post-office building they are building one of the strongest vaults in the city. It will consist of a safe enclosed in a vault, the vault enclosed in steel plate ½ an inch thick, and the whole enclosed by a brick and cement wall. The fire that would injure papers in such a vault would indeed be a hot one.

A Musical Welcome.

Mrs. W. W. Clarke gave a musical entertainment at her residence on Saturday evening to a few of her musical friends, to welcome the arrival of her parents and family from England, the musical accomplishments of whom are of a superior character, especially those of her brother, Mr. Ernest Wolff, who is an organist and violinist from the best schools in London, Eng., and Miss Minnie Wolff, whose dramatic recitals and singing is something never to be forgotten.

The Children's Excursion.

The steamer Princess Louise is being cleaned and painted for her excursion to Pedder Bay on Dominion Day with the Gorge Road Methodist Church Sunday School children, their teachers and friends. Invitations have been issued to the James Bay, Victoria West and Esquimalt Methodist Sunday Schools to attend, so there is sure to be a big crowd. A large number of tickets have already been sold signifying that old as well as young folks will be present. The steamer will leave her wharf at 8 and 10 a.m. and return at 5 and 7 p.m.

The Wolff Family.

The Wolff family, who are brothers and sisters of Mrs. Clarke, the well-known singer of this city, will give a concert in the Victoria in the course of two weeks. There are nine members and they are all specialists in either instrumental or vocal music.

Western Gate Preceptory.

Quite a number of prominent Knights Templar from the States and Canada are expected to center in Victoria shortly for the purpose of inaugurating this preceptory and considerable interest in Masonic circles has been caused throughout the province thereby.

Will Be Back.

Mr. M. J Bissell, agent of the U. P. Company, received a telegram from Port Captain Clancey this afternoon, telling him to have a supply of coal ready for the Olympian on Saturday. This, of course, means that the old, reliable steamer will soon be on the Victoria-Tacoma route again.

A Flier.

The Empress of Japan anchored off the outer wharf last evening just ten days after leaving Yokohama having made the best time of any steamer on this route so far. She may be considered as the trans-Pacific "flier" although as a "flier" she does not compare with Tanglefoot fly paper sold by cochrane and munn, druggists.

A New Lodge.

Mr. W. A. Newill, Supreme Medical Examiner of the order of the Golden Shore of San Francisco, is in the city. The object of his visit is to organize a lodge of the order in this city. There are fifteen names on the charter list already, and as soon as the required number of names are obtained a meeting will be held. The order extends all over the States but this will be the first lodge in British Columbia.

The Hunters' Picnic.

The annual picnic of the Hunters will take place at Langford Plains next Sunday. Trap shooting both at live and artificial birds will be one of the principal features of the day. Rifle shooting will also be indulged in. The baseball match will be under the management of Mr. Geo. Keithley and no doubt large scores and brilliant play will, as usual, mark this interesting event. Everyone will be made welcome and no gate money charged.

A Purser's Carelessness.

For some reason best known to himself, the purser of the Empress of Japan failed to leave the direct Victoria mail here but carried it on to Vancouver. When the tender drew alongside of the Empress last night, Mr. J. A. Fullerton called to the purser and asked if he had any mail for Victoria, and if he had the tender would take it ashore. The purser replied that he had and would see that it got aboard all right. Nothing more was thought of it until the arrival back at the dock when it was found that the purser had neglected to do as he said he would. The result is that many business men, who were expecting China mail will have to wait several days for it on account of the carelessness of the purser.

Cedar Hill Musicale.

The ladies of the Cedar Hill church, in the Mt. Tolmie district, gave a very successful musicale and ice cream social in the church last evening. The success of the evening was particularly due to the efforts of the Misses Tolmie, who were interested in the preparation of it and in the decorations of the church. Mrs. Ardner particularly distinguished herself on the violin, as did Miss Grahame on the piano. Mrs. Kaills and the Misses Lombard and Kingman were very happy in their choice of songs, which were received with marked applause. At the conclusion of the musicale refreshments were served, after which the guests departed well pleased with the evening's entertainment. There were about 100 present, of whom three 'bus loads came from Victoria.

Election of Officers.

The annual meeting of Seghers Council, No. 85, Y.M.I., for the election of officers, was held last evening, when the following were elected: F. H. Lang, president; W. H. Harris, 1st vice-president; M. Steele, 2nd vice-president; F. J. Sehl, recording secretary; J. Tepoortan, corresponding secretary; Rev. Father Laterme, financial secretary; D. McDougall, treasurer; H. McDowell, marshall; W. J. Elliott, inside sentinel; J. McCarty, outside sentinel; Executive Committee, L. Gray, J. McCurrach, D. Nolan and A. Christie. Two delegates were nominated for the Grand Council meeting to be held at Watsonville, California, Sept. 2nd, to be elected at the next meeting of the council. The invitation to attend the re union of the Y.M.I. at Seattle on the 4th of July was accepted.

A Long Voyage.

The barque Duke of Aryle, Captain McDonald, cast her anchor last evening in the Royal Roads after a long and rough voyage of 172 days from London. She has a cargo of 1700 tons of general merchandise. Her commander reports some trying experiences off Cape Horn, where for eight weeks the barque struggled with head winds and fierce gales, and it was only after passing the cape three times that she succeeded in "doubling"—or rather in this case trebling the Horn. After leaving the cape the weather was all that could be wished until Cape Flattery was reached, when it became very foggy and the vessel was delayed for three days.

While off the South American coast the fresh water supply became low, but a heavy rain coming on the captain was enabled to collect enough to fill his tanks.

During the heavy gales off the Cape Capt. McDonald proved the efficacy of "casting oil upon the troubled waters." He used a large oil bag with great success, it keeping the waves from breaking over the decks. The tug Pilot towed the Duke of Argyle in from the Cape. She was towed to New Westminster to-day.

REGULAR LINE TO CHINA.

Local Company to be Formed to Control the Upton Steamers.

The steamship Batavia, of the Upton Line from China to Victoria, is expected to arrive within a few days, as she is reported to have sailed from Hongkong on the 2nd instant. She will stop in at Yokohama as well as at several other points to receive freight so the actual date of her arrival is not known. The trips of the Zambesi, the first of this line in this trade was found to be very profitable, so Manager Wymark of the Upton Line accompanies the Batavia to perfect arrangements to permanently establish the line between China and Victoria. Last week the Chinese Board of Trade, composed of the wholesale Chinese merchants of this city, decided to import all their goods by this line in future, and have so instructed their correspondents on the other side. The object of this is that their goods are landed directly here in Victoria and is a saving to them of from one to two weeks after their arrival, and what is also important all claims for breakage or loss can be settled here before the sailing of the steamer again. These steamers are now running in conjunction with the Union Pacific railway and if a company is formed to operate the line regularly they will control a large interest in it, but Davidge & Company will remain as the local agents.

Must Go Sunday.

Dr. Seward, the celebrated expert optician of New York, is determined to keep his engagement in other cities, and will leave on Sunday next, June 28, notwithstanding the fact that his office, corner of Yates and Douglas streets, is crowded from day to day. This eminent scientific optician has given the Victorian public ample opportunity to consult him, and all those who have not already done so, or do not before Sunday, will have only themselves to blame, when they find it is too late. This is Dr. Seward's final visit to Victoria. He will go to Nanaimo for a brief period, after which, Vancouver and New Westminster will be visited before returning east. Those desiring to consult Dr. Seward, should call at once and as early as possible. Office will remain open from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m., and on Saturday till 7 p.m.

Empress of Japan Arrives.

The Empress of Japan arrived from the Orient last night on time almost to the minute, although it necessitated breaking the record to do it. Her orders were to reach Victoria early in the evening of the 22nd, and at about 9 o'clock she dropped anchor in the outer harbor, making the run in 10 days, 3 hours and 52 minutes by calendar time, but she having gained a day her actual running time was 11 days, with the same hours and minutes. The officers reported as perfect weather during the entire trip around the world as they had ever experienced, as they did not meet a wave large enough to give the ship a toss or pitch in the entire passage. The passenger list consisted of 149 cabin passengers and 318 in the steerage, the latter principally Chinese. The cargo consisted of 3200 tons of general freight, principally consisting of tea, silk and opium. The advices from China were of no special general interest, and everything is reported to be quiet there.

A number of the passengers disembarked here, a majority of whom joined the Queen on her excursion to Alaska this morning.

About midnight the Empress weighed her anchor and proceeded to Vancouver. Prominent among her passengers were Sir Alfred Gooch, Lady Fitzgerald, Rev Canon Tristram, Captain Marshall, R.N.R., Dr. Scott, ex-mayor of Hull, and Mr. Blaine, the great ship owner, of Liverpool.

The Emeralds.

The Gospel Temperance meeting held in the First Presbyterian Church school room last night by the Emerald Duet, under the auspices of the Royal Templars of Temperance, was largely attended. The meeting opened by singing, "Rescue the Perishing," and prayer by Rev. D. Reid, of California. Mr. Smith read the 1st Psalm and Mr. Webb addressed the audience on "Happiness, and how to obtain it," during which time he urged all temperance people who have not been working to come out and push the cause of temperance ahead in their midst, which would not only increase their own happiness but the happiness of some who have been dragged down by the evil curse of intemperance. Mr. Smith then spoke for a while and pleaded very earnestly for all present to come out and join their ranks and help to rescue the perishing. During the evening the Emeralds sang "Sailing O'er the Sea," "Papa, tot will you take for me," "The Demoniac Healed," "Molly and the Baby" and "Hear dem Bells" with great effect, which delighted the audience. The earnest pleadings of these brethren for the people to come out and labor in this grand work are sure to bear fruit, and be the means of many joining one of the best temperance organizations in existence, for the purpose of assisting in driving intemperance from our midst. In connection with this order there is a sick and funeral benefit fund and insurance which any member of the order may, after passing a careful medical examination, participate in, either separately or combined, the payments of which are in the reach of all. The Emeralds have not come here for the purpose of talking up the benefits of the order. They came to rouse up people to a sense of duty in the temperance cause and increase the membership of the Royal Templars of Temperance, which they are sure to succeed in doing by holding such grand meetings as was held last night. At the close of the meeting eight candidates took the obligation of the order. The meeting to-night and to-morrow night will be held in the same place.

Mr. George Sutherland, of Toronto, and Mr. McPhadden, of this city, are working hard, with the assistance of other members of the order, to make their meetings a success.

AN IMPOSING CEREMONY.

Laying the Foundation Stone of St. Alban's Church School.

NANAIMO, June 23.—One of the most imposing events that has ever taken place in the history of the City of Nanaimo was successfully carried out on Monday by the laying of the foundation stone of St. Albans Church School. The event having been announced some time previously, it was sufficient recommendation to the citizens to assemble in great numbers to witness the affair. The Nanaimo silver cornet band met at the Masonic Hall, where they formed, and marched to Nichol street, followed by the Grand Lodge and Ashlar Lodge of A.F. & A. Masons, while the rear was brought up by the choir and clergy in surplices. On arriving on the platform, the Grand Master took the chair, and was surrounded by the principal officers of the grand lodge. The proceedings were opened by a hymn from the choir, then the Rev. Tovey (pastor) stepped forward and delivered a short prayer, which was followed by a beautiful sermon by the Ven. Archdeacon Scriven upon the merits of the event taking place.

Rev. Tovey then formally presented Grand Master Marcus Wolf with a handsome silver trowell in the name of the committee of St. Alban's Church. The latter made a neat little speech in response, and thanked them on behalf of the Grand Lodge of British Columbia for the honor conferred upon him. The lengthy proceedings were then gone on with by Archdeacon Scriven, delivering an eloquent address touching the work before them, its object, and the good it was destined to do the rising generation.

This was followed by an imposing ceremony conducted by the Masonic brethren, which was highly edyfying to the large concourse of people collected there, and during the ceremony singing by the choir was indulged in, and music was dispensed by the band. After the stone had been duly laid by Grand Master M. Wolfe, the lodge completed their duty by "grand honors."

Then addresses were delivered by Rev. Tovey, Roberts and Miller, after which a collection was taken up and the sum of $200.50 collected. The singing of "God Save the Queen" closed the proceedings. Then the procession formed and marched to the Forester's hall, where a large number had received an invitation to be present to lunch. On entering the hall it was immediately perceived that a grand banquet had been spread and such a one that has never before been equalled in Nanaimo.

The Rev. Tovey occupied the chair and after saying grace all fell to with one accord until the inner cravings had been appeased. The guests were waited upon by the ladies who attended to their wants like ministering angels.

The Rev. chairman then called upon Dr. Praeger and Mr. W. H. Perkins, church wardens to deliver a few remarks. The former was the first to rise and joccosely alluded to the neccessity of having mercy upon him, owing to the fact that it would have been more kind of the pastor to have asked him to say something on the ground instead of after he had got so well laden. He expressed the satisfaction it gave him to see the event carried out under the auspices of the Masonic lodges so successfully and paid a high tribute to Mr. Marcus Wolfe, in holding the high position of Grand Master of the Masonic Lodge in Nanaimo. Mr. W. H. Perkins followed and said: "The church is but an infant, but I can assure you it is a very healthy one." (Hear, hear.) He then alluded to the financial position of the church, and stated over $2000 had been collected towards defraying the expenses of the present edifice, which would cost about $5000, and said if the Episcopal church people would only act in unity he hoped before very long to see a church erected which the people of Nanaimo would feel proud of. He concluded by referring to the magnificent manner in which they had been entertained by the ladies and asked those present to rise and give three cheers for the ladies, which was responded to with alacrity.

Mr. M. Wolff asked the guests to rise to a vote of thanks to the ladies, which was accordingly carried out. He then made a short speech, in which he trusted that the superstructure from the stone laid that day would be a credit to the church, and hoped it would prosper accordingly. He next dwelt upon the merits of the order he represented, which, he said, were good, or they could not have existed for so many years. He expressed the pleasure it afforded him to have been of service in so good a cause, and claimed it did a great amount of good to the members of the lodge, and concluded by wishing prosperity to the Church of St. Albans.

Mr. J. E. R. Lagart, by request, as a representative of St. Paul's church, arose and made a few pleasant remarks on behalf of the parishioners.

Rev. Mr. McRae (Presbyterian) delivered a few stirring and eloquent remarks. He complimented the ladies, then the Rev. Tovey, expressing his friendship for the latter in such glowing terms that he was repeatedly applauded. He made a profound sensation upon his hearers by prognosticating that the smile which is constantly to be seen on the face of the chairman will be the means of soon seeing a stone edifice erected for St. Alban's church in Nanaimo.

The chairman called for three cheers for the band which were heartily given.

Dr. Praeger proposed a vote of thanks to the Ven. Archdeacon Scriven for his kindness in taking part on this occasion. The latter replied in a few pleasant words, and felt sure from the rapid manner in which the city was growing that there would soon be a strong body of church people in Nanaimo.

Mr. G. Norris (Free Press) was then proposed; and, on rising to respond, said: "I had come prepared to take notes but not to give them." He further said the Church of England was his mother church and he was therefore glad to be present on this occasion. It was felt that Nanaimo was on the eve of a great commercial advancement, but he was glad to see that it did not lead them from religious matters, which had been clearly demonstrated to-day, and trusted that the church of St. Albans would meet with every success.

Rev. Mr. Flinton was called upon and in reply stated his desire to render the new church all the aid in his power, although his duties were manifold in his own district. He felt sure the new church would go ahead and prosper, with a gentleman of Mr. Tovey's accomplishments at its head. He referred to disadvantages he had met with and said: "We have been here without an elder clergyman to look up to for advice but now that Mr. Tovey has come he has kindly consented to give us such assistance that at times we may require and which will greatly assist us. I only regret that Mr. Tovey is not nearer to me." He concluded by expressing his desire to assist the new church whenever he could. The proceedings were brought to a close by singing the national anthem.

COLONEL OF THE FOURTH.

A STORY OF THE WAR OF THE REVOLUTION.

By Bernard Bigby. Author of "Loyal at Last," "My Lady Fantastic," "Ellen's Great Secret," "Fell Among Thieves." Etc., Etc.

Copyright 1891, by A.N. Kellogg Newspaper Co

"Not Harry Burrows, surely?"

"Yes, Harry Burrows. Why, you don't mean to say that you know him, do you?"

"Know him! I've known him all my life. I live at Meltonburg and my father was a physician there, in whose office Harry got his first lessons in surgery. Oh, Captain Henderson, if you go there, you must call on my mother and Mr. Brentwood, the minister; and be sure to see how Grace—"

Frank paused and blushed scarlet. In the excitement of conversing with a man who was actually about to meet the dear ones at home, he had said more than he intended to do.

"Your sister, I suppose?" Henderson asked, surprised at his confusion.

"No, not exactly—my—that is to say, Mr. Brentwood's grandchild."

"A child, eh? Some little thing you've made a pet of—nay, don't be ashamed of loving children, I'm fond of them myself; so rest easy, for I'll take her a big box of candies and a kiss in your name, and she shall hear how—"

"But," Frank interrupted. "You can't do any such thing. Miss Grace Brentwood is a young lady of eighteen, who would be shocked if—"

"You did the kissing by proxy. Ah, lad, I see how the wind blows, and will be properly considerate of your interests, and respectful to the young lady."

"And you'll see my mother?"

"Indeed I will. And, talking about relations, do you know that I have an uncle in your regiment? No? Well, I have—one of the best fellows that ever put on a soldier's coat—Major Hopkins—I honestly don't think I ever met a kinder, truer gentleman than he is—if you get a chance, cultivate his acquaintance, for he's a good man for a youngster like you to know."

"Major Hopkins has been good enough to take some notice of me already," Frank said, intensely pleased at the turn the conversation was taking.

"Yes, I heard him say to-day that you were wonderfully like a boy he lost." Henderson continued: "You see, Uncle Jack has had a pretty tough time of it, and that perhaps accounts for his going a-soldiering when most men of his age and means would have preferred to send a substitute."

"A boy he lost?"

"Yes, his only child and wife were both drowned at sea, and he has never been the same man since."

But now, to Frank's chagrin, the conversation was interrupted by other members of the party.

Green and Carson, who were old friends of Henderson, were clamorous that he should sing them something before the meeting dispersed.

"Come now, Mark, no excuses. We don't often get such a chance, and we're not the slightest intention of missing it."

"Well, boys," was the cheery answer, "if you will promise to do justice to the chorus, I don't care if I do tip you a stave. So here goes. I stole the best half of it from Sever, but the felony won't spoil its flavor."

Then, in a rich baritone he trolled:

"The pickets are last retreating, boys,
The last tattoo is beating, boys,
So let every man
Fill up his can
And drink to our next merry meeting, boys.

"The colonel so gayly prancing, boys,
Has a wonderful trick of advancing, boys;
When he sings out so large:
'Fix bayonets and charge!'
He sets all the Johnnies a-dancing, boys.

"Our sweethearts at home are sighing, boys,
For lads on the tented field lying, boys;
But we're hearty as yet,
And don't mean to fret,
Or talk about death, till we're dying, boys.

"But 'tis time for a farewell greeting, boys,
For the wing-footed hours are fleeting, boys,
So let every man
Fill up his can,
And drink to our next merry meeting, boys."

Once fairly started, the gallant cavalryman proved himself a prince of good company, song and story tripping from his lips without apparent effort. It was only when the party was breaking up that Frank managed to get a word or two with him.

"Shall I see you in the morning, Captain Henderson?" he asked, anxiously.

"Not likely, my boy; for I start on the first train, and you'll be hoofing it probably before I'm out of bed."

"Yes, that is so. Well, be sure and call on mother, if you go to Meltonburg—and, I say; if you tell her any thing of our way of living down here, don't draw your pictures with too many shadows in them."

"I understand, and will be careful. But how about the fair Grace? Shall I tell her that you send her a kiss, but don't want the precious article delivered till you're at home?"

Frank laughed.

"Good-bye, old fellow," he said. "I wish with all my heart and soul I was going with you."

And there was something like tears in the lad's eyes as he grasped his friend's hand and turned gloomily away to his quarters.

The march to St. Louis proved worthy of Charlie Fulton's worst anticipations. The weather was execrable, rain, snow, sleet by turn assailing them—the ground now slushy as a swamp, and again frozen with ridges hard as iron. Sometimes they had to hunt for the least moist spot on which to pitch their tents, and at others they could not pitch their tents at all, because no human hands could drive the pegs into the adamantine earth, and all this suffering aggravated by the sight of trains rolling by them on which they ought to have been riding. Somebody's ears at Washington must have tingled, if the old saw be true, for curses loud and deep fell from the lips of the weary men as they dragged their tired limbs over the endless miles of road.

CHAPTER VII.

A VERY QUIET PARTY.

"Do I know the Besants, Mark?"

The speaker was Mrs. Burrows, a matron so young and pretty that one could see at a glance that the honeymoon had not yet reached its wane. "Why, of course I do, and if you'd taken the trouble to read my letters you would have discovered that I consider Mrs. Besant the quite too sweetest thing in the way of widows I ever saw or read about. What the men are thinking of to let her wear her weeds so long I'm sure I don't know. If I were a man—"

"Which, thank goodness, you're not," a manly voice interrupted. "The fact is, Mark, somebody once told Flossie that there is a strong resemblance between her and Mrs. Besant, and ever since she's done nothing but rave about her perfections."

"Oh, Harry Burrows, you wicked story-teller," the little lady flashed indignantly. "I only wish I were like Mrs. Besant. Now, Mark, don't pay any attention to his interruptions—I do know this lady very well, and I think her as near perfection as it is possible for woman to be. She might be a little too old for you—but, I don't know—she doesn't look half her age—and, oh, wouldn't it be nice, if—"

A roar of laughter from her husband interrupted the current of her remarks.

"Well," he cried, "if that isn't the boldest flight of feminine imagination I ever listened to! Why, Mark, Mrs. Besant is forty, if she is a day, and much too sensible a woman to encourage a flirtation with a man younger than herself, even if you were eyris with her undeniable charms."

"Now this comes of visiting a pair of spoons like you two," Henderson said, with assumed regret. "I can not ask a simple question about a neighbor, but off you fly into the realms of romance and matrimony. See, I didn't even ask after the widow at all—I said the Besants, as plain as I could speak. Now, do you think you can come down from your stilts long enough to tell me who the Besants are?"

"But, Mark, there are no Besants but Mrs. Besant," Mrs. Burrows pleaded.

"She is a widow with some means," her husband explained, "who lives in the best house in the village, and is decidedly the person of the place, as you will find out before you have been here very long. She has only one child, a son, who is now covering himself with glory on the battle-fields."

"Yes," Henderson interrupted. "I spent the evening with him a few nights ago at Sedalia."

"What!" Mrs. Burrows ejaculated. "You have been all night in the house and never told us this. Why, Mrs. Besant will be wild to see you. Get ready to go with me at once, sir, or I shall never be forgiven for having kept her so long from seeing you."

"I object," ruthlessly declared Dr. Burrows. "Mark is an invalid and wants rest." Then, seeing the pout on his wife's pretty lips, he added: "But I'll propose an amendment to your proposition. We've never attempted to give a party since we were married. Now, suppose you go to the Walnut House and invite Mrs. Besant to tea to-night. You can then trot round to the parsonage and ask Mr. Brentwood and his women-folk, and—"

"Won't that be perfectly splendid!" Flossie Burrows cried, and as Mark lazily accepted the plan it was forthwith carried out.

But Mark Henderson was fated to meet Mrs. Besant before the evening's festivities, for in the early afternoon a note came round from Walnut House to say that that lady's niece had just arrived from Chicago, whereupon the accommodating officer was commissioned by his sister to call and induce both ladies to honor them with their presence.

"You know I didn't dare to say that you were a friend of Frank's this morning, or we should have had the widow down here long before this, interrupting my immense preparations for supper—simply an army officer, my dear boy—so while you're there you can just let the flood-gates of your information flow, or you'll be boring us to death this evening with it all," the volatile little lady suggested.

What Does It Mean?

"100 Doses One Dollar" means simply that Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most economical medicine to buy, because it gives more for the money than any other preparation. Each bottle contains 100 doses and will average to last a month, while other preparations, taken according to directions, are gone in a week. Therefore, be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier.

3 PRACTICAL POINTS

One of the most successful German physicians gave as the secret of his wonderful success these three important points:—

1. Keep the Head Cool.
2. Keep the Bowels Open.
3. Keep the Feet Warm.

These conditions are not so easily obtained as one would think. Why? Because without pure and healthy blood a vigorous circulation cannot be kept up, and because the food and occupation of most people tends to clog up the bowels and produce constipation. The success of B. B. B., like that of the German physician, lies in so purifying the blood and regulating the bowels, liver and stomach, that these three conditions are fulfilled easily, and disease can find no lodgment in the body.

THE BEST SPRING MEDICINE.

B B B

This medicine does purify the blood and cure all diseases arising from impure or unhealthy blood. It does regulate the entire system and cure constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, scrofula, skin diseases, rheumatism, and all disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels. During the past ten years over one million bottles have been sold in Canada, and, although we guarantee every bottle to do all we claim, we have not received a single complaint.

Freight Rates.

NEW YORK, June 23.—The refusal of the Trunk Line Association to allow differential rates on the northwestern freight business to the Delaware and Lackawanna equal to that allowed to the West Shore has aroused President Sam Sloan's blood. He declares, if he can't get what he is entitled to by asking for it, he will reach out and take it. The Lackawanna issued a reduced tariff schedule for northwestern freight business yesterday. It will go into effect officially to-morrow, although it is practically in effect. The Lackawanna's northwest freight goes partly by rail and partly by lake, via Great Eastern fast freight line, the Milwaukee, Lake Shore & Western, the Green Bay, Winona & St. Paul, and the Chicago, St. Paul, Milwaukee & Ohio railways. Some of the other roads in the Trunk Line Association are disturbed over the belligerent attitude of the Lackawanna, and there may be a rumpus over the affair. A meeting of the executive committee has been called for to day to consider the situation.

Honoring the Rebels of '37.

MONTREAL, June 23.—The ceremonies in honor of the rebels of 1837-38, which were held in Cote Des Neigs Cemetery on Sunday were witnessed by a large concourse. All the French Canadian societies participated. Part of the ceremonies was to be the removal of the remains of Dr. Chenier from unconsecrated ground at St. Eustache to Cote Des Neiges Cemetery for re-interment, but at the last moment Archbishop Fabre refused to permit it. The action of the Archbishop caused considerable grumbling, and it was openly declared that his action was brought about through political influence. The ceremonies were therefore curtailed considerably, the people confining themselves to decorting the graves of the revolutionists and the monuments of Duvernay, founder of St. Jean Baptiste Society. The rebels were eulogized by the orators of the day.

Wants a Divorce.

CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., June 23.—Steamboat men who arrived here yesterday, bring a report that Mrs. Cora Belle Fellows Chaska will apply for a divorce from her husband, Sam Chaska. The marriage of Miss Fellows, of Washington, to the Indian Chaska, several years ago caused a sensation. The couple have one child. The father of Mrs. Chaska is a departmental clerk at Washington.

Earl of Clonmell Dead.

Dr. Sutherland.

ST. JOHN, N.B., June 22.—Rev. Dr. Alexander Sutherland, missionary secretary to the Methodist Church of Canada, has been offered the principalship of the Mount Allison College at Sackville.

Words of a Great Historian and Writer.

A well-known historian and writer once said: "Let me be restored to perfect health and bodily vigor, give me refreshing sleep at night, and banish the weariness which oppresses me when I rise each morning, and I will willingly sacrifice all the fame and honors that have been bestowed upon me by my countrymen and mankind in general." Honor, fame and renown without health cannot enable a man to enjoy life and its pleasures; the poorest beggar often lives happier and more contented. The man who finds his appetite failing, or his stomach weak and disordered, his nerves unsteady, his muscles twitching; who experiences a fullness in the head and headaches; who doesn't sleep well; who gets up in the morning with a coated tongue and a feeling of weariness, is on the high-way to suffering and serious troubles. These symptoms require the immediate use of that valuable remedy known as Paine's Celery Compound. Its use means certain restoration to perfect health, strength, robustness and mental vigor. In all the above-mentioned troubles its value is now firmly established and well known. Men and women, old and young, find it just what they require in every emergency and difficulty. Try it, reader, and be convinced.

Distrustful People

Make an exception in favor of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Its known virtues as a cure for diarrhœa, dysentry, cholera morbus, and all bowell complaints cause all who use it to regard it as the most reliable remedy obtainable.

A Mob Repulsed.

VIENNA, June 23.—On Sunday at Batonya, Hungary, a crowd of field laborers, incited by socialist agitators, made an attack upon the town hall. Had it not been for the determined resistance offered by a small force of policemen the mob would probably have wrecked the building. The officers killed four of the mob and wounded seven others.

Dyspepsia

Intense Suffering for 8 years—Restored to Perfect Health.

Few people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. E. A. McMahon, a well known grocer of Staunton, Va. He says: "Before 1878 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an ailment developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 162 pounds, suffering burning sensations in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea, and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, had fits of melancholia, and for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable, and for eight years life was a burden. I tried many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Sarsaparilla. It had wife of Hood's Sarsaparilla, as cured his dyspepsia. I did so, and before taking the whole of a bottle I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected, ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easier, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With returning strength came activity of mind and body. Before the fifth bottle was taken I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla."

SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS.

No Interest Taken in Election for Electric Light By-Law—Fence Demolished.

NANAIMO, June 23.—Again the citizens showed their indifference yesterday at the polls on which occasion their vote was required for the passing of the electric light by-law. There were only 109 votes cast in all, 69 being for acquiring the light and 49 against. Whether the corporation will purchase the present plant in operation or erect works themselves will be decided by the council, but the idea prevailing among the business men is that the present holder should be bought out instead of running in opposition to him.

THE FENCE AGAIN DEMOLISHED.

The fence recently erected on the boundary between the Newcastle townside and the New V.C. Company's land was again demolished on Saturday afternoon by the employes of the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway Company. The fence has been allowed to remain up all the time it was guarded, but as soon as the men were withdrawn the railroad company sent men to destroy it.

PASSED TO THE HIGH SCHOOL.

The number of scholars who passed successfully to the High School in the recent examination have considerably diminished from the previous term. Out of about fifteen who endeavored to pass only three were successful, these were: Miss Gardiner's division, Mary Wall, and Maude Caarman; Mr. Shaw's division, J. Hardy. The two former failed in the previous examination, but came out with high record this term.

THEY ARE DISMISSED.

Closing Examination of the Rock Bay Ward School.

The first school to close its doors for the summer holidays was the Rock Bay Ward School; the pupils of which will for the next six weeks enjoy themselves to their hearts' content. This afternoon at 1 o'clock they went to school for the last time this session, not to study as usual, but to show how well they had done during the past year. There were a number of ladies and gentlemen present who were convinced that Miss L. Horton and her able assistant, Miss I. R. Christie, had done all in their power during the term just ended, to advance the little ones under their care. The children, too, must have taken an interest, for when questioned in different subjects this afternoon they answered quickly and correctly. The musical part of the programme was also well rendered, and the visitors were naturally well pleased.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—An ex river pirate named Chas. Wilde stated last night that on the night of Decoration Day, he took a man who answered the description of the fugitive bank president, G. W.
